七、阅读理解。(20分)

A(太原五中月考卷)

Do you think you are fat? Do you want to be healthy? Let's do exercise together! We have three groups for you to join:

Easy Level(水平):

Anyone can join this group to do exercise. We run or ride bikes in the park three times a week, usually on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoon, starting at 5 p. m. and lasting(持续) for 30 minutes.

Medium Level:

You can join this group if you are not too young or too old. We exercise three times a week, but we do more sports than the first group. We can play basketball, football or go swimming. We will exercise for two hours a time.

High Level:

If you want to join this group, you'd better ask your doctor first, because we do sports every day from Monday to Friday, one and a half hours each time, and there are many strength(力量) exercises.

(  ) 46. What sport does the first group do?

D. ask people to join the groups

B

Some parents say their kids don't like sports. Why? Some kids don't like sports because they don't know how to play them. If the kids know the rules of a new sport, maybe they will like it. Taking P. E. classes at school is a good way to learn new sports. Another way is to watch DVDs about sports. Kids can also read some books to learn new sports.

Some kids don't like playing sports because they were once on a team and didn't have fun. For those kids, it's a good idea to talk with their teachers or parents. With their help, maybe the kids will like playing sports again.

There are many kinds of sports, so a kid should find the sports that suit(适合) him or her. If a kid doesn't like team sports, parents can ask him or her to try individual(个人的) sports, such as swimming and running.

Playing sports is a good form(形式) of exercise, and it can help kids keep active and healthy. Of course, many non-sport activities can also keep kids active, such as walking a dog, cleaning the room and watering the garden.

- (  )51. This passage tells us _____ ways to learn new sports.
